

Bradley, Anna, Dickinson, Mark, Todd, Jack and Jackson, Lisa (2023) Hello Future: catch up reading pilot. In: 11th annual NEON Summer Symposium, 6-7 July 2023, University of Exeter, UK. (Unpublished)

Downloaded from: <https://insight.cumbria.ac.uk/id/eprint/7245/>

Usage of any items from the University of Cumbria's institutional repository 'Insight' must conform to the following fair usage guidelines.

Any item and its associated metadata held in the University of Cumbria's institutional repository Insight (unless stated otherwise on the metadata record) may be copied, displayed or performed, and stored in line with the JISC fair dealing guidelines (available here) for educational and not-for-profit activities provided that

- the authors, title and full bibliographic details of the item are cited clearly when any part of the work is referred to verbally or in the written form
- a hyperlink/URL to the original Insight record of that item is included in any citations of the work
- the content is not changed in any way
- all files required for usage of the item are kept together with the main item file.

You may not

- sell any part of an item
- refer to any part of an item without citation
- amend any item or contextualise it in a way that will impugn the creator's reputation
- remove or alter the copyright statement on an item.

The full policy can be found here.

Alternatively contact the University of Cumbria Repository Editor by emailing insight@cumbria.ac.uk.

Hello Future: Catch up reading pilot.

A pilot catch up reading scheme in schools across Cumbria using Pearson Rapid Reading resources and elements of 'reciprocal reading' to deliver an intensive reading programme to support year 7 learners to increase their reading age to the expected level, alongside reading confidence and motivation.

Anna Bradley, Outreach and Evaluation Officer, Mark Dickinson - Outreach Officer, Jack Todd - Outreach Officer, Lisa Jackson - Programme Manager University of Cumbria

Surrey Scholars – University of Surrey

NEON Widening Access Initiative (Outreach) Award Winner

Surrey Scholars is a sustained and progressive programme of year-on-year extra-curricular activity for eligible students in years 10 – 13. It aims to provide a seamless outreach experience of pre- and post-16 activity which enables learners to foster a sense of belonging and familiarity, and prepares and supports students to transition to post-16 study and HE. The hybrid Surrey Scholars programme combines face-to-face and virtual activity, using the WPO Teams newly developed website and VLE, to deliver timely and accessible IAG, attainment support and aspirational activity to support the development of skills and knowledge, to empower students to make confident informed decisions about their future.

Emily Ridgley, WPO Manager (Kings College Partnership), University of Surrey

Session 3 – Higher Education Outreach Room – Seminar room 4

Reverse engineering our lifecycle approach to widening participation to ensure the Arts and Humanities remain in plain sight.

Widening participation at The University of Warwick is delivered through a whole lifecycle approach, from primary school to graduation. This session will share our journey, our observations and encourage discussion around the fate of the Arts and Humanities in a society increasingly reliant on science and technology.

Cherryl Jones Widening Access and Lifecycle Manager, Vicki Hill, Widening Participation Faculty Coordinator (Faculty of Arts) University of Warwick

Supporting young people to make informed choice about pathways.

Leading online mentoring charity Brightside's mission is to support young to make confident and informed decisions about their education and career pathway. As a route neutral intervention, our focus is on how young people make decisions, particularly when there are multiple routes to success and a multitude of information about each route. We have recently undertaken a full review of our Theory of Change and the outcomes which underpin it to understand what essential skills and behaviours are required for young people to move onto positive destinations suited to their own aspirations. This included analysis of external research, the conversations of 500 young people and consultation with