Practising (in) Uncertainty Colloquium

9.45 - 4.40 Tuesday 6 May 2014

Venues:

Banqueting Hall. Chelsea College of Arts (CCW)

General Seminar Room 1. Glasgow School of Art (GSA)

Welcome to the Colloquium. This is the first event to take place between the Graduate Schools of CCW (Camberwell, Chelsea & Wimbledon Colleges of Arts) and Glasgow School of Art. All speakers will be in London, but the event focuses on the audiences' responses at both venues.

The geographer Kathryn Yusoff has posed a timely question. 'What knowledge becomes useful to us in a time of abrupt climate change? How can we creatively practice towards such uncertainty?' The day will explore how artists both practice, and practise in uncertainty. It focuses on how we might create and present artworks which investigate cultural (mis)understandings about biodiversity, landscape or site. This includes how audiences might engage with the actual artworks.

Please take your seat by 10.00 so that we can go through housekeeping before linking up the venues.
